The best way to heal the heart ;

In the world of science meets feelings

The art called pharmacy.

This is where every pill and mixture Marie.

It is a journey in which compassion never ends.

From white lab coat to kind hands, you will be taught how to cure
sew up and distribute.

With vast knowledge and sharp abilities

You walk through desire and well-being.

Through calculation your course is one with no end of kindness

In every test, in any difficulty you are always there for other Indeed.

This is your path medicine and trust.

You are the sentry of health just like a paxel light.

So, enter into this with your heart held high.

Be Your Own Light

(This poem is for those students who have failed and have lost hope in themselves. Just a little effort from my side to win the fight of me vs me)

Yes! We are students, we are the future,
We are the plants that should be nurture

Some particular things can hurt you,
But also gives so many lessons too!

Comparing the sun and the moon, is it fine?
They shine when it's their time!

You don't know , but you are the star,
Hiding the pain and hiding the scar!

Dare to dream, it is your day,
Don't just think, make it happen anyway

How much you got, it doesn't matter
But try to improve yourself later.

Don't fade your shine, for just a failure,
Get up! Restart! You're your saviour.

Be brave! And be strong,
To sing a tough song!

Not everytime you'll get a guide,
Search the magic hidden inside!

Believe in yourself, be your own light,
Burn the negativity, and win the fight!

The Emotional Rollercoaster of Adulthood.

Now, many of us once believed adulthood meant getting a job, earning money, paying bills, buying a house, and living independently. But let me tell you, it's far more than that.

As children, we anticipated that becoming an adult would bring freedom. But once we hit our late teens, the reality sets in—adulthood is a race filled with challenges. The freedom that once fascinated us now feels daunting. This transition from teenager to adult is overwhelming, filled with ups and downs—broken friendships, college rejections, and many personal struggles.

Yet, through all of this, we grow. We learn to let go, adapt, and move forward. We realize life isn't always about achieving every dream but making the best of what we have. We slow down, create realistic goals, and shape our lives.

Yes, adulthood is tough, but it's thrilling too. So, for those about to enter this phase, embrace it! To those already swimming through it, keep going—you'll make it. And for those who've survived it, take pride in how far you've come.

Remember, the journey of adulthood is hard, but every challenge brings growth, and every cloud has a silver lining. Thank you!

Water.

From the gentle streams to the vast ocean blue,
Water flows a shimmering view.
Reflecting the sky, mirroring the light,
In its depth. Secret stake flight.
A source of life pure and clear,
Quenching thirst, a gift so dear.
Softly falling as raindrops dance,
Nature's rhythm of watery trance.
In parched lands, it brings revival and hope,
Sustaining all, from mountain to slope.
A symbol of purity cleansing the soul,
In its depths. Our interconnected role.
From rituals to life's daily chore,
Waters presence, we can't ignore.
A healer, a sustainer, a force of Grace,
In its embrace we find our soul place.
So, cherish the rivers, the lakes and the sea,
For in water's embrace we find unity.
A reminder of life's interconnected art,
Water, the essence that binds every heart.
In lakes and rivers, gentle flow,
Through valleys deep, where stories grow.
Majestic waterfalls, a breathtaking sight,
A symphony of nature, pure and bright.
From a single drop to an endless sea,
Water's. Essence, wild and free.
In its embrace, life finds its way,
A liquid treasure day by day.
Water's important runs deep and wide,
In its presence let gratitude abide.
For in its simplicity a lesson we find,
Life's precious resource, gentle and kind.
